ARIZONA CONS ARRESTED WHILE CROSSING LINE

MILITARY AUTHORITIES ARREST ARMED FLIGHTERS AS THEY
ATTEMPT TO CROSS INTERNA-
TIONAL LINE AT AGUA PRIETA,
HAVING EVANDED OFFICERS

PHOENIX, Dec. 25.—Arizona consular officials will shortly be limited to a point of 5 miles a pound on butter by a new maximum margin established by the food administration. It was announced at the state headquarters today. Heretofore, the butter margins have applied only to wholesale and retail dealers.

PROFIT WILL BE LIMITED TO 5C. POUND ON BUTTER

The new regulations provide that the manufacturer of butter shall not be allowed to advance over the cost of butter necessary to produce a pound of butter of more than 5 cents per pound of butter, except on sales through branch dealers. In less than two weeks.

The food administration does not recognize 5 cents per pound of butter as a normal percentage cost of manufacturing. This is the maximum margin to cover the most expensive legitimate method of operation and to provide for the risks of fluctuating market prices.

State field inspectors with the food administration have been directed to turn their attention to butter markets, checking especially those made through branch establishments, with the idea of placing the price of butter to the consumer at as low a price as possible without affecting the price of butter to the producer.

GETS $7000 AND $1200 A MONTH FOR REST OF HIS LIFE

PHOENIX, Dec. 25.—A final settlement has been made in the McKay-King estate according to the terms of the will. The late Joseph McKay, who resided in Tombstone, has left a large estate. The settlement provides for the late McKay's widow, Mrs. McKay, to receive $7000 and $1200 a month for the rest of her life.

The settlement also provides for the late McKay's children, Mr. and Mrs. King, to receive a certain amount of money. The settlement is being administered by a court-appointed trustee.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT IN SOUTH ARIZONA

The farmers of Southern Arizona will be interested in the following information recently received from J. W. Hill, manager of the Arizona Lumber and Mill company of Tucson. Mr. Hill says:

"The Board of Supervisors have authorized the construction of a road from Casa Grande to the amount of $40,000 from the state fund. This is the best road made in the state. It will be a great benefit to the farmers of the region. It will be a great benefit to the farmers of the region. It will be a great benefit to the farmers of the region."

LETTER FROM LOCAL BOY WHO WAS IN THICKEST OF FIGHT

FRANK ENGLE, JR., IN LETTER
TO UNCLE IN TOMBSTONE
 TELLS HOW HE AND OTHER
TOMBSTONE BOYS HELPED
PUT GERMANS ON THE RUN

The following letter from Frank Engle, a Tombstone boy who was in the thick of the fight, tells how he and other Tombstone boys helped put the Germans on the run.

November 21, 1918

Dear Uncle: These two things I have forgotten you, but have when you could not get paper, or when you are at the front you are a long way from anything for when Fritz is shelling the roads it is pretty damn dangerous. I've been on roads when they were fighting in all sides of me and I'd never been so nice, but we did not stand for it long for November 1, 1918, a. m. we got over the barbed wire that the Germans, for after we bowed them out of their holes, the doughboys ran them so fast and far that we couldn't catch up with them, only to be a few rounds. To give you an idea of where I am at and what country we were fighting in. We were in the Arroyo Puerto, the bloodiest sector in the western front, an artillery and machine gun. The outfit that Cecil Conklin is in was right in front of me. I followed him all the way to the Meuse river, where the fighting raged and never got a chance to see him. Well how is old Tom? I suppose there was not a lot of jobs when he heard papa was in France once more. Wasn't much work on the front although we were all dead it was over. Don't know when we will be back home, but it will probably be several months yet. How are the doughboys getting along? I'd like to get in on some of that good money there and probably soon. Well, papa I'll say all for this time. Will write again soon. I am staying in a town called Donny. It is on the banks of the Meuse river. It was captured about four days before the war got and there isn't a house standing. We go to a German place just yet today and get the good part just now. I'll be home by the time the boys of the dead all home. You see you know what the country looks like around

COUNTY BUREAUS IN ARIZONA TO GET JOBS FOR SOLDIERS

PHOENIX, Dec. 25.—All eight Arizona county bureaus have been organized county by county to care for returning soldiers, especially with an eye toward finding them jobs. In the event they do not return to their old positions, there is a probability that many will come back for a high grade of mechanical work, especially those who went into the transportation and aviation service.

ASK INCREASE BY POULTRY RAISERS OF ARIZONA

HOOPER ASKS THAT ALL RAISERS
OF POLTRY INCREASE
STOCK, IN ORDER TO HELP
EUROPE FOR THE NEXT
EIGHT YEARS AT LEAST

Herbert Hoover comes forward with the optimistic statement that America will have to supply Europe with food for the next eight years. In response the government is urging increased production.

During the past few months we have kept forth our energies along the line of increased production from a particular standpoint, now we are appealed to from the humanitarian side. Every true American feels this responsibility and would regard even at a sacrifice, his own interests to assist in this instance as prices bid fair to remain good for years to come.

The price of eggs which has prevailed all over the West this fall has led to increased interest among poultrymen. It has also demonstrated that laid eggs can only be secured from well developed flocks. To get such flocks they must be hatched early and cared for properly.

PHOENIX BARRER ARRESTED LOS ANGELES, Dec. 25.—(Special N. B. News) said to be a bank cashier of Phoenix, Ariz., was taken into cus- todial today by deputy sheriffs here on a charge of embezzling from the Phoenix National Bank. He declined to make a statement.

STORM KILLING MANY CATTLE IN ARIZONA REPORTED

TUCSON, Dec. 25.—Probably in a day or two trains will be arriving and departing somewhere among schools this—but not yet.

The storms of last week still have the mildest and most heavy hand on and everywhere in Arizona. New Orleans and the rest of the west they have daily had occasion to widen their vocabularies in the profanity section.

Almost passenger arriving yesterday were some from New Mexico, points who should have come in on Monday. They brought reports of the feet of some of the northern, San of New Mexico and trains stalled and waiting on the different roads. Due to the weakened condition of cattle on the ranges the severe weather is killing many.

MOUNTAIN RANGES ARE NOW COVERED WITH FALL OF SNOW

PHOENIX, Dec. 25.—Saturday and Sunday a general storm prevailed over the district, covering the foothills and mountains with a blanket of snow from one to 12 inches in depth. Topous rains fell in the valleys, filling water courses and raising the growth of water annuals.

GO TO HELL! HOOPER TELLS GERMANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Food Administrator Hoover, in Europe attending relief for the people of the war devastated territories, has advised his dispatches to the state case German food conditions which have been so bad in London and the fields, who would a month with the food administration.

ARIZONA PROSPECTORS USE BURNING HOTSPOTS OF SUNSHINE ON WINTER TRIP

JEROME, Dec. 25.—A selected vacation in the Arizona prospecting tour in Arizona, with members had returned from a winter trip to the region of Death Mountain and Jack Moley of Cherokee, who have started by that on a prospecting expedition. They will explore the mountains along the Verde river, south of Scottsdale, down to McDowell Basin, 20 miles east of Phoenix, where the stream enters Salt river. They have built a 34-foot bathhouse and had been hauled in with 200 pounds of supplies, including gas and gasoline and more. Where the prospectors found good they will be the best to the bank and camp.

ARIZONIAN IS APPOINTED ON RELIEF WORK

COL. E. B. TWITCHELL OF CLIF-
TON, APPOINTED MEMBER OF

WED INSURANCE IN COURT ACTION

PHOENIX, Dec. 25.—Miss Jervis, to whom the man of Henderson, the Arizona Fire Insurance company was daily exhibited, returned a summons return of $1,000.00 in favor of the plaintiff. Henderson, who had insured his 1917 best crew with the Arizona Fire Insurance company for $5,000, asked to recover the full amount of the policy when the entire crew was destroyed in the fall of 1917. The company refused to make the payment, contending that the crew was insured for an amount less than the actual value of the crew.

ARIZONA PROSPECTORS USE BOAT INSTEAD OF BURROS ON UNIQUE TRIP

JEROME, Dec. 28.—A decided variation from the ordinary prospecting tour in Arizona, with blankets and "grus" scked on burros, is the expedition of Dagan Stewart and Jack McCoy of Clarkdale, who have started by boat on a prospecting expedition. They will explore the mountains along the Verde river, south of Scottsdale, down to McDowell butte, 50 miles east of Phoenix, where the stream enters Salt river. They have built a 14-foot flatbottom craft and have loaded it with 500 pounds of provisions, blasting and gunpowder and arms. Where the formation looks good they will tie the boat to the bank and camp.

WINS INSURANCE

IN COURT ACTION

PHOENIX, Dec. 28.—Nine jurors, to whom the case of Sanderson versus the Arizona Fire Insurance company was finally submitted, returned a unanimous verdict of $13,941.50 in favor of the plaintiff. Sanderson, who had insured his 1917 bean crop with the Arizona Fire Insurance company for $25,000, asked to recover the full amount of the policy when the entire crop was destroyed in the fall of 1917. The company refused to make the payment, contending that the crop was insured for an amount more than the actual value of the same.
