KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste.

The object of these gentlemen in going down the Colorado river is to make a thorough and exhaustive examination and report to their respective governments.

Usually involves sea sickness. When the waves play pitch and toss with you, strong indeed must be the stomach that can stand it without revolting.

The object of these gentlemen in going down the Colorado river is to make a thorough and exhaustive examination and report to their respective governments the feasibility of dredging the river to its mouth so that deep water vessels can come to Yuma. It will be remembered that several months ago Gov. Hughes brought this matter to the attention of Mexico's Minister and the outcome is that the above gentlemen have been appointed to investigate it.

Crossing the Atlantic

Usually involves sea sickness. When the waves play pitch and toss with you, strong indeed must be the stomach that can stand it without revolting. Tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen, mariners, all testify that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best remedy for the nausea experienced in rough weather in the water.

Chas. Landon, the well-known farmer of Yuma county, made his departure last Monday for Los Angeles. The object of Mr. Landon's visit is to get medical treatment for his eyes, visit the seashore and rest up. He is under the impression that the trip and change of climate will do him much good.

Nearly Perished of Thirst on the Desert.

Three weeks ago Billy Marvin, Guy Toombs and an Indian left here on a trip to the Chuckawalla mining district, about 100 miles in a northeasterly direction from here. They followed the Colorado river up some 70 miles, when a trail was taken which lead them directly across 30 miles of desert and waterless section. Previous to leaving the river they took seven gallons of water and had they so wished 30 gallons could have been carried just as well. After traversing some 25 miles the trail became obliterated and after a fruitless search of several hours it was decided by Toombs and Indian to return to the river. Marvin was still of the opinion that he could find the well of water that was known to exist near by. It was decided that Toombs and the Indian with the burros would camp where they were and Marvin started out in search of the well. Several hours passed and he did not return and thirst was becoming unendurable. Finally the burros were unpacked and all their provisions, with two guns were piled in a heap and the trail back taken up. In traveling the last 200 yards Toombs fell to the ground a number of times completely exhausted, but each time he struggled to his feet and renewed his journey to the river which he could now see. The river was finally reached and after taking small swallows frequently of the life giving fluid and bathing in the stream he laid down and was soon asleep. It seemed to him only a few minutes, yet four or five hours had passed, he was awakened by hearing groans. He got up and followed in the direction from whence the sound came about 100 yards, when he found Marvin unconscious. He gave him water in small quantities and he soon recovered consciousness. They gave some Mexicans everything they possessed for use of a boat to bring them to Yuma. Marvin was without water for about 36 hours and had it not been for his friend he would have died in sight of water. The wonder is that they did not all perish. The many poor unfortunate miners who have left their bones to bleach on the scorching desert sands and the many articles that have been written chronicling the many deaths from thirst seem to go for naught, when three men with burros will start to travel a distance of 30 miles with only seven gallons of water.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

The excursion from El Paso to Santa Monica had an extra Pullman car attached yesterday morning. It was well filled with Arizonaans. Messrs. Riise and Barney were the only Yumaites to go on the excursion from here. The former named young man goes to the mid-winter fair and the latter, who has been on a visit here several months with relatives, returns to his uncle's home at Menlo Park, a suburb of Oakland, Cal.

A. H. Gamage was in town Thursday from Gila City. He has two fine mine locations called the Mammoth and Last Chance. One of them has been bonded by California parties for $2,000. It is his opinion that the Gila mining district is one of the best in Yuma county. He will commence at once to sink a fifty foot shaft.

Frank Harner went to Prescott Wednesday. He will enter the service of the engineering corps of the Santa Fe railroad system there of which G. W. Vaughn is chief engineer. We wish the young man success in his new field of labor.

Yuma Reading Room.

Mrs. Taggart and Mrs. Gillespie have donated to the Yuma Public Reading Rooms two of the most valuable contributions yet made to the newly opened reading rooms. The former lady gave a complete set of Bancroft's History of the Pacific Coast; the latter a full edition of Chamber's Encyclopaedia. Our citizens, both young and old, are just commencing to see the grand benefits to be derived from this new acquisition to Yuma and it is very seldom now that the rooms can be found without some person deeply engaged in the perusal of some one of the many books of knowledge, which the reading room is now in possession of.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

Morgan O'Brien, et al supposed all faced it. E. L. Robinson expedition arrived here yesterday from Guaymas. He said that the Mexican Government had dispatched 200 cavalry and 50 infantry soldiers to the scene of the massacre on Tiburon Island. Mr. O'Brien feels positive that James Logan and Robinson were killed on the morning of May 26th by the Indians. He and Geo. (Clark) Flavell rowed their boat out from shore a safe distance as soon as they became convinced that something was wrong with the Indians. All day was spent by them watching the shore in hopes of hearing or seeing something of their friends, but nothing was seen or heard of them after Logan called to Flavell for help. It is Mr. O'Brien's opinion that Robinson was instantly killed when the first volley was fired.

The Mexican troops left last Wednesday for the Island and we are informed that if the Indians have committed this cruel and heartless murder they will receive no quarter from the soldiers. On the other hand if Robinson and Logan are found living they will probably be severely dealt with by the Mexican authorities. Mr. Flavell accompanied the soldiers.

On a Wild-Goose Chase. BENSON (A. T.), June 20.—Private information conveys intelligence that the Mexican Government yesterday dispatched from Guaymas to Tiburon Island, Gulf of California, two detachments of soldiers to search for Robinson, a newspaper correspondent, and his companion, recently reported as captured by cannibal Indians. One detachment of fifty soldiers will approach the island from the west side. Another detachment of twenty-five cavalrymen marched to Guaymas east of Tiburon Island, where the channel is only one mile wide, and will cross there, effecting a conjunction with a detachment from a steamer, searching the island thoroughly for a trace of the missing men.

Since the first publication of the story of the alleged fate of Robinson and his companion on Tiburon Island it has come to light that Robinson was a news "fakir," being addicted to concocting sensational stories, and it is surmised that he is the author of the gruesome tale relating to his imaginary fate, and that he was never molested by Indians.—S. F. Examiner.

Mexican Cannibals. CITY OF MEXICO, June 20.—Consul Gibson of Guaymas has reported to Secretary Gresham the story of two Americans having been killed and eaten by cannibals on Tiburon Island, Lower California. Secretary Gresham asked the Mexican Government to punish the Ceris Indians. It is believed here that one man, reported killed a newspaper correspondent, will reappear with a sensation for his paper. Nevertheless, the Mexican troops will thoroughly investigate.

The Gila Bend Leader of yesterday says: About 3 o'clock this afternoon, just as we had printed the last copy of our edition, the word came that water had been reached and was flowing into the big well. At a depth of about 500 feet the borers pierced the clay bank and entered regular water carrying gravel, in a short time the water commenced flowing so rapidly that all work had to stop. Inside of an hour there was 500 feet of water in the well, and at this time it bids fair to flood things before we get this second edition printed. The water is cool and sweet. This well is one of the first real blessings coming to Gila Bend, and it is not to be wondered at that our people are somewhat hilarious over it. Mr. Gordon and his crew are the heroes of the hour.

Jim Willson, a prospector, stopping at Mr. Klenk's in the Mohawk valley, met with a severe accident on Thursday. He picked up an old tin can and threw it on his campfire. It proved to be loaded with some kind of explosive material for immediately after the can fell in the blaze there was a terrific explosion. The shock knocked Mr. Willson down. His face, hair and eyes were injured. Our informant did not know how badly he was hurt, but said he could see a little with his eyes when the lids were opened.

Mrs. Samuel Purdy and two children, wife of our attorney, went to Fresno this morning. After a visit there of a day she will continue on to San Francisco for a week's stay when a return to Fresno will be made and the remainder of the heated term passed visiting among her relatives and friends in that city. Attorney Purdy expects to take a run in and see his family in a couple of weeks.

Next Saturday, June 30th, is the day set by law for school elections. Two school trustees will be elected in the Yuma school district on that day.

"MY OLD PARD."

A Reminiscence of Gov. Markham's Campaign.

The Supreme Court of California

Holds That an Ante-Election Bluff Was Properly Called.

Judgment Against a Campaign Manager for $1,000 Offered for a Letter He Didn't Want to See.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—The supreme court today turned up a reminiscence of the last gubernatorial campaign by stating that Irwin C. Stump will have to pay Russel J. Wilson $1,000 for the production of the genuine "My Old Pard," a letter written by H. H. Markham when he was a candidate for governor in 1890 as evidence of Markham's pro Chinese feelings.

The Democratic party published a letter addressed to E. G. Hallock, beginning "My Old Pard," and containing the sentence, "I am glad that the Irish crowd are out and hope that the Chinamen will be all right." Stump, who was chairman of the Republican state central committee, pronounced the letter a forgery and offered $1,000 for the production of the genuine letter. The supreme court affirms the judgment of the lower court, which pronounced the letter genuine and decided that Stump must pay.

THE PULLMAN STRIKE.

OMAHA, June 26.—Four hundred members of the A. R. U. are prepared to carry out the Pullman boycott as ordered to the letter.

The Eastern Situation.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The eastern superintendent of the Pullman Palace Car company said today: "We do not expect that we will be affected here. The American railway union has no strength on our eastern line."

Gen. Horace Porter, vice-president of the Pullman company, says: "It is a matter that concerns the railroads more than us, since they use our cars."

A NEW WRINKLE.

Train Robbers Successfully Blow Open a Safe

And Compel the Engineer to Detach the Engine and Assist in Their Escape.

By the Associated Press.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 26.—Train No. 6, on the Savannah, Florida & Western railroad, was stopped by a danger signal at Monerville 126 miles from Savannah at 2 o'clock this morning. Half a dozen men armed with rifles boarded the cars and the Southern Express Co's safe was blown open and its contents taken. Their value is not known.

Engineer Jenkins was forced to cut the engine from the train and carry the robbers about eleven miles. It is supposed they have gone into Okefenokee swamp. A posse with bloodhounds is on the trail.

REVENGEFUL MINERS.

They Demand Atonement for the Outrage on Tarsney.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 26.—A reign of terror prevails here. Rumors of contemplated raids on account of the Tarsney outrage fill the air. The jail and public buildings are strongly guarded at night.

Sheriff Bowers received a letter warning him to arrest Tarsney's assailants or else the town would be burned. W. H. Brooks, the first Cripple Creek mine owner to require nine hours as a day's work, has been warned that he would receive the same treatment given Tarsney.

General Heweston Released.

LONDON, June 26.—Today the grand jury threw out the bill for manslaughter found against General John Heweston of California, by the coroner's jury on June 5, on the charge of having caused the death of George Burton a street musician, on May 30 by poking the point of an umbrella into his eye.

They Turned on the Chief.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., June 26.—A special meeting of the council has been called for Wednesday to consider charges of boodling against the chief of police made by two aldermen and other prominent citizens who were caught in a gambling den raid.

He's Still a Republican.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Justice J. J. Dehaven made a statement tonight relative to a movement to make him a candidate before the coming Democratic convention, in which he says his name will not be placed before the convention as a candidate for justice of the supreme court with his consent. The judge says he is a Republican and desires the success of that party in the coming election.

ON EARTH AGAIN.

The Eaten Explorer of Tiburon Island Resurrected.

R. E. L. Robinson is on earth again. The skeleton of the commander of the ill-fated sloop Examiner and his companion, Logan, supposed to be lying around disjointed after the cannibalistic feast of the inhabitants of Tiburon Island, have been re-habilitated with flesh. The breath of life has been re-breathed into their nostrils and the crimson tide is re-coursing through their veins. They are all in the City of Mexico. All this is as those who knew Robinson predicted it would be. He was not made to be eaten of cannibals. Great as is his journalistic instinct and aspirations they have never gone to the extent of inveigling him into close contact with cannibals and other instrumentalities for the shortening of his allotted years on earth. Robinson was built on other and safer plans. He may be safely charged with misleading the reading public, but no accusation of foolhardiness can be successfully lodged against him. Unless Robinson dies a natural death he will be on hand when Gabriel comes around with his trumpet to call the dead to breakfast.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

License to marry was issued yesterday to Joseph R. Stover and Mary Bond.

Capt. Loyson and Cadet Thomas, of Tucson, the new Salvation Army officers, arrived today. Welcome meeting tonight.

Suit was begun in district court yesterday by Louise G. Lighthizer vs. Jesus Baldez de Richey and Joseph Richey to collect a mortgage note for $500.

The young ladies of the newly organized Y. M. C. A. are promising a midsummer treat. An entertainment will be given in Gardiner's hall sometime about the middle of July.

W. W. Wall has sub-let the mail line from Gila Bend to Gunsight, a distance of seventy miles, to D. L. Harrington. There will be accommodations for passengers and express.

The following transfers of real estate were yesterday entered for record: John J. Casson and wife to C. J. Beauvais, lots 9 and 11, block 41, $100. J. L. Gant and wife to John B. Rousseau, lot 9 in block 18, Linnville addition, $300.

Little Miss Lieutenant Maitland who has had charge of the Salvation Army garrison at this place departs for California next Monday night. She will be succeeded by Capt. Minnie Legdon and Cadet Thomas from Tucson. They will arrive this morning.

C. M. Frazer yesterday filed an attachment suit in district court against ex-Senator Tabor to recover on a note for $1,000 and a levy was made upon the Vulture mine. Judgment had been secured in the court at Denver and the record in the case was yesterday transferred here.

The council should hold its meetings in the city hall on such occasions as that of last night where the public is anxious to hear what is going on. The crowd in attendance last night would have been considerably augmented if there had been room to even stand without being crowded.

Charlotte Monroe, who proposed to make a test case of the city's right to prosecute her as the keeper of a disorderly house, gave up the fight yesterday and pled guilty. The city did not wait with cruelty over its victory, but assessed the usual fine of $5 in such cases made and agreed upon.

Mrs. Rogers, one of the morphine unfortunates lately sent to the insane asylum, was dismissed yesterday. If she is not cured of the habit she is certainly not proper material for an insane asylum. She is looking much better and says that the sleepy drug is no longer a temptation to her. Her daughter, who was committed with her, is also rapidly improving.

JUST HEARD OF IT.

The Taylor Brothers Deny any Part in the Murder of the Meek Family.

KANSAS CITY, June 26.—A Star special from Little Rock, Ark., gives an interview with William P. Taylor, one of the brothers suspected of the murder of the Meek family at Browning, Mo., on May 10th, in which he stated that they only learned of the murder the day after the crime and were told that they were suspected of it and that a mob was after them to lynch them, whereupon they sought safety in flight, intending to return when the excitement had died down.

They hope to get bail and can give it in any sum necessary.

STILL STUCK.

Another Seance With the Masten Franchise.

The Council Listens to Lots of Language.

Proceedings of the Council Tinged With Excitement.

The Matter Laid Over Until Tomorrow Night When Its Fate Will Be Decided.

The Masten franchise is still suspended between heaven and earth at about the same altitude it held a week ago.

The city council met last night presumably with the object of settling it one way or another. The council chamber was crowded by excited citizens and property owners and lawyers who had come to see and take part in the settling. Such a crowd in point of numbers and interest had never before intruded upon the deliberations of a council of Phoenix.

As soon as the matter was opened Judge Campbell presented the objections to the ordinance. It was taken up section by section and held in a disparaging light. The objections were first and generally that such a franchise was neither desirable to the property owners of Phoenix nor needed.

Second, that the ordinance had been drawn to befog the council and with a view to release the grantees from the effect of any penalty for a violation of any of its terms. He closed with an accusation that the real object of the applicant for the franchise was to embarrass and interfere with the operations of the approaching north and south road and showed how by the passage of the street car line along Jackson street the former line could easily and effectually be obstructed. He waded recklessly into the history of the methods of the Southern Pacific of which he said Col. Masten's road was the illegitimate son. He recited an expression alleged to have been made by Col. Masten recently in the office of Maj. Evans in which it was said he stated that a result of the franchise would no doubt be litigation with the Santa Fe.

Col. Masten interrupted him and denied having made such remark. Maj. Evans who was present replied that he had said so and an angry and threatening altercation between the gentlemen ensued.

Gen. Sampson next addressed the council in favor of the franchise. He enumerated the inconsistency of the objectors and showed in a brief and eloquent speech the advantage to be derived by the city in granting it. He showed with equal clearness how no damage to the city's interest could grow out of the granting. He met the principal objection of the opponents by agreeing to submit a substitute section providing that along Jackson street the franchise should grant a single track to be placed under the direction of the city engineer at the side of the street so it could in no way interfere with the north and south road's rights.

Messrs. L. H. Chalmers and P. J. Cole also represented the objectors and dwelt more particularly upon the example of other cities which had suffered from too close contact with railroads. A telegram was also read from Hon. J. A. Fleming now in Denver, protesting against the granting of the franchise.

Judge Kibbey closed the case for Col. Masten. He effectually met every objection, legal and economic, showed the groundlessness of all in points of fact and probability and sarcastically alluded to that particular one that the franchise would introduce dirt, smoke, bustle and noise through the present sleepy thoroughfares of southern Phoenix. As to the chief and particular objection of interference with the north and south road he said that he had himself drawn the original ordinance providing for the franchise on Jackson street. When he learned that the north and south road's right of way lay along that street he begged to be permitted to change his ordinance substituting Madison street for Jackson. Other objections to the ordinance he said were entirely technical and their removal would in no way affect the purpose for which the franchise was desired. He would therefore agree to submit to such changes in phraseology as would silence the objectors.

Judge Campbell replied and the matter was again considered by the council. Alderman Lacy said that it had not been intended to pass the ordinance in its present form, at least not until it had been submitted to the city attorney. This had not been done for the reason that the committee had not fully decided that the measure would be passed in any form. It was almost agreed last Saturday to report it favorably and now he recommended that it be put into the hands of the attorney for preparation. His motion was adopted and the council adjourned until next Thursday night.

The Original Coxeyites an Exclusive Set.

They Discourage a Massing of Industrial Forces in the Vicinity of Washington.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The original Coxeyites are not anxious to extend fraternal welcome to the other commonwealers, the chief reason being that their own supply of provisions is so low that meals have been scanty and infrequent.

Marshal Carl Brown has turned out Frye and his army who arrived here on Sunday tired, hungry and woebegone after their long journey from the west. Frye and his men went over to Galvin camp where they were welcomed by a dozen of the army still remaining in that vicinity, the galvanites however having nothing to offer their fellowwealers. The Coxeyite brigades are slowly dwindling. No interest is taken in them now by the public and contributions have about ceased.

REPUBLICAN LINERS PAY

A CRAZY SPRINTER

Acted as Peacemaker for the Sheriff Last Night.

Late yesterday afternoon a stranger attracted attention to himself by his strange actions at the corner of First avenue and Washington street. He stood with his head thrown back, seemingly beckoning to things in the sky. Those who saw him watched him long enough to satisfy themselves of his insanity, and one of them, Matt Bunker, invited him to go with him to the county jail. The stranger went along without any resistance until they got to the door of the sheriff's office. Then he darted away and ran to Washington street, and circled around the block. He was later captured by Sheriff Stout and Mr. Bunker. This time he seemed to be tractable. He said at first that his name was Frank Murphy, and that he had just come in from Cananea. He wanted to go to the S. F. P. & P. depot, where he said he had a coat. After he had recovered his coat he broke away again. He didn't run with a great deal of judgment or he would have got away. He persisted in running around blocks, and was thus easily headed off. The last time the sheriff caught him he did not let him go until he had handed him in jail.

Murphy later admitted that his name was not Murphy, but Peter Ferguson. He said he had not changed his name, but that it had been changed for him since he came to the territory. He was employed in a tie camp in the northern part of the territory, where some of his fellow employes gave him the name of Murphy, and he became known on the pay roll as Frank Murphy. He never took enough interest in the matter to correct the mistake. He says he expects his father to come after him this morning. He has not seen him for twenty years, and he was then in Maine. He has not heard from him, but he now thinks that he will be at the jail this morning.

"You're a pretty good runner," said Sheriff Stout, still panting with his exertions.

"That's no lie," replied Ferguson; "I'm a pretty good single-handed sprinter."

A SUNDAY WEDDING

A Matrimonial Enterprise Brought to an Issue Yesterday.

Two more victims, headed in by the Edmunds act a few days ago, were sacrificed on the matrimonial altar yesterday, or rather, they voluntarily made that sort of an arrangement yesterday for their past sins. Their conduct, it is presumed, was not prompted entirely by penitence, a greater inducement being the alternative of yawning penitentiary walls.

Several days ago Deputy United States Marshal Utting had them arrested for violation of Mr. Edmunds' famous statute, and they were taken before Commissioner Woodward. In his presence they indicated great affection for each other, and pleaded for time to adjust matters. It was granted, and yesterday forenoon they went to Justice Gray's office, properly armed with a license, and requested him to tie the knot that should mark them one. After it was all over they intimated to their friends that while they were one in theory, in practice the strings put upon them by Justice Gray were very elastic, and that, though yoked together, they would undertake to travel separate pathways henceforth.

While this may seem like treating the institution of marriage with scant courtesy, their lack of reverence for that institution may be overlooked on the ground of youthfulness, for the blushing bride, Miss Juana Ruiz, is only in her fifth year, while the swain is a mere boy of forty-five. When they attain maturity they may view life differently, and live together happily ever afterward, blessed be the first mate, that, with the aid of the United States marshal, brought them eventually to the marriage altar.

THE INVASION OF TIBURON

By a Party of Arizonians Headed by "Arizona Charlie."

"Arizona Charlie," Charlie Meadows, is ambitious to become the conqueror of Tiburon island. According to an article printed in the Los Angeles Herald of last Saturday, he is fitting out an expedition against the inhabitants of the island. It is to be composed of Arizona cowboys and dead shots. Its numbers will include three brothers of Arizona Charlie, Sheriff Del Lewis of Coconino county and Sheriff Thompson of Gila, who is described as the only sheriff of that county who ever lived to die a natural death, and he is not yet dead. There will be twenty members of the invading force, and Arizona Charlie is said by the Herald writer to have gone from Los Angeles to San Francisco to buy supplies for the expedition.

That he could not have bought them in Los Angeles is a reflection on the commercial reputation of that town. Phoenix could easily fit out a party for the subjugation of Tiburon island. Tempo could do it; so could Mesa, and it is doubtful if there is a town or mining camp in the territory which could not.

The Herald story contains all the rot that has been printed about that little island, lying in the gulf of California, almost touching the mainland of Mexico. At some times it does touch it, and is not an island at all. Tiburon, with the tales of cannibalism practiced there and its defiance, from the earliest times of the Mexican republic, and its successful standing off of the Spanish conquerors, has been a broad field for the imagination of western newspaper correspondents. As a matter of fact there is no reason to believe that the people of that island have ever practiced cannibalism. They are not particularly savage and they have frequently been visited by white men who came away alive. It is true that though the island belongs to the Mexican government no authority has ever been exercised over it, for there is nothing in the island to attract the attention of the government. There is nothing mysterious about the origin of its inhabitants; that is, there is nothing more mysterious than there is about the origin of any of the other Indian tribes of Mexico or of this country. The Ceris, who live there, used to live on the mainland, and some of them live there now. There is within two miles of Hermosillo a town called Ceris, some of whose inhabitants are members of the tribe, and at one time all of that part of the country was occupied by these Indians.

It is stated in the Herald story that
